Success of Weed Cleaning Machine

Demonstrations of the perfected weed cleaning machine which is being actively sponsored by Hon. Geo. Headley, Minister of Agriculture, and his department, have taken place at one or two points in the province within the past few weeks.

During the past week or two, however, several have seen the machine in operation at Oliver, near Edmonton, and at other points, and have declared their entire satisfaction with it.

The machine, which is considerably improved and lightened over the first model, is attached to the top of the grain separator, and cleans the grain free of weed seeds and small grain, before it goes to the bin or wagon.

The device weighs some 650 pounds, and is driven by a belt from the beater shaft. Only 1 to 1-2 horse power is necessary to drive the machine, and it has a capacity sufficient to permit it to handle the run of grain from any make of separator now in operation in the west. The excessive amount of vibration which was an undesirable factor in the first model of the invention, has now been successfully overcome. It is expected that the provincial department will direct the marketing of the machine next season, on a basis that will make it easily possible for separator men to finance.

The invention is declared by grain men and farmers to be the greatest step forward yet taken in the control of weeds on the farms and the reduction of dockage in the marketing of the grain. In the demonstrations conducted, the machine has reduced dockage in wheat from the usual amount of from 5 to 8 per cent to less than one percent. This would mean the saving in dockage alone of anything from 8 to 14 cents a bushel according to grade. A saving of 6 cents a bushel alone on the entire wheat crop of the province would mean the saving of from five to six millions of dollars to the farmers on the basis of the estimate of the 1925-crop. In addition to this saving, there is of course the saving in freight on the dockage, which costs the western farmers thousands of dollars every year. Furthermore, the operation of the machine makes it possible for the farmer to keep his screenings right on his own farm for feeding purposes, and this in turn prevents the spread of weed seeds which has been responsible for the growth of the weed menace in the west. The feeding value of the screenings is estimated at as high as 50 cents a bushel in some cases.

A meeting in connection with Red Cross work for the purpose of organizing a branch in Didsbury will be held on Friday, November 20th, at eight p.m. A special Red Cross organizer from Calgary will be present.

Among those from Didsbury attending the stock show at Calgary last week were Mrs. W. P. Pitt and Miss Kathleen, Mrs. Russell and Miss Jean, Mr. and Mrs. Kendrick and family, and Sam Franklin.

Thanksgiving Supper

The chief event in Didsbury on Monday (Thanksgiving Day) was the supper and evening concert arranged by the Ladies Aid of the Union Church. The proceedings were announced to start at 6:30 p.m., and punctually on time every chair at the supper table was filled. The eatables supplied were of a varied nature, every variety of pie, salads, jellies, etc., and all were of such excellence as to put the ladies of Didsbury in a class by themselves.

Following the supper came an excellent program, a feature of which was community singing. Each item was heartily received, the large audience present showing its appreciation in unstinted applause.

Program:

Community singing; piano duet by Misses Laura and Orpha Liesemer; solo—Miss E. Stock; male quartette—"Love's Old Sweet Song," Didsbury male Quartette; reading—Mrs. Huget; community singing; speech—Rev. Capt. McColl; community singing; violin duet—"War March of the Priests" by Messrs Clemens and Boorman; male quartette—"The Song of the Anvil," Didsbury male quartette; solo—"Duna," Alex Robinson; Mixed quartette—"Good Night Beloved;" God Save the King.

The Didsbury male quartette consisted of Messrs J. R. Miller, Geo. Liesemer, J. Boorman and H. Clemens, and the mixed quartette of Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Miller, Miss Stock and J. Boorman.

The address given by Rev. Capt. McColl was extremely interesting. His remarks were based chiefly upon experiences in France, and an emphasis was given to the lessons to be learned therefrom.

The chair for the evening was taken by Mayor H. W. Chambers.

What Do the Ladies of Didsbury Say?

Edmonton, Oct. 28, 1925

Dear Sirs:

I am writing you to learn whether there is a ladies hockey team in your town which would like to become a member of the ladies branch of the Alberta Amateur Hockey Association?

A Provincial trophy, which is now held by the Patricia Club of Calgary is offered for annual competition.

We would like to have all teams entered early so that schedules can be drawn up for games in the Northern and Southern sections.

It is likely that a junior league will also be organized if enough entries are made and if your team cannot enter a team in the senior section, perhaps there is a team which would like to enter the junior section.

Rules and regulations of the A.A. H.A. and information in regard to fees etc., will be forwarded on application.

Would you kindly communicate the contents of this letter to anyone interested in organizing a ladies hockey team and ask them to reply at as early a date as possible.

A Long Patrol

Tremendous Distances Covered By Mounted Police In Performance Of Their Duty

A patrol covering a distance equal to one and a half times across the continent, has been completed by the Royal Canadian Mounted Police in the past year in the Cumberland Gulf-Bafin Land district. Four police, under Sgt. Wright, traversed on one trip alone 2,230 miles, travelling with dogs and sleds.

Baree always suspicious of him, even to the point of hating him. It required considerable skill and cunning on his part. With himself he reasoned:

"If I make him hate me, he will hate all men. Mey-no! That is good."

So he looked into the future—for Nepeese.

Man's Color Depends On Salt

Scientist Tells Why Races Are White, Yellow, Brown and Black

An eminent scientist, speaking of the significance of common salt, states that one's color is dependent upon salt. If your ancestors ate much salt, the chances are that your complexion is fair. In Northern Europe, for example, where there has always been an unlimited supply of salt, the inhabitants are white. In China, Greenland, Korea and India, where salt is obtainable, but expensive, the color is yellow. On the plains of America and the Malay Peninsula, where the lack of good transportation makes salt difficult to get, man is brown. And finally, in West and Central Africa, in many sections in which is actually unknown, man is black.

McTaggart was glad when Gregson followed the map-maker to Norway House. Out of courtesy he accompanied him a day's journey on his way. When he returned to the Post, Marie was gone. He was glad. He sent off a runner with a load of presents for her people, and the message: "Don't beat her. Keep her. She is free."

Along with the bustle and stir of the beginning of the trapping season, McTaggart began to prepare his house for the coming of Nepeese. He knew what she liked in the way of cleanliness and a few other things. He had the log walls painted white with the lead and oil that were intended for his York-boats. Certain partitions were torn down, and new ones were built; the Indian wife of his chief runner made curtains for the windows, and he confiscated a small phonograph that should have gone on to Lac la Biche. He had no doubts, and he counted the days as they passed.

Down on the Gray Loon, Pierrot and Nepeese were busy at many things, so busy that at times Pierrot's fears of the Factor at Lac Bain were forgotten, and they went out of the Willow's mind entirely. It was the Red Moon, and it thrilled with the anticipation and excitement of the winter hunt. Nepeese carefully dipped a hundred traps in boiling caribou-fat mixed with beaver-grease, while Pierrot made fresh deadfalls ready for setting on his trails. When he was gone more than a day from the cabin, she was always with him.

It was the Willow's voice which Baree had learned to understand, and the movement of her lips, her gesture, the poise of her body, the changing moods which brought shadow or sunlight into her face. He knew what it meant when she smiled; he shook himself, and often jumped about her in sympathetic rejoining, when she laughed; her happiness was a part of him, a stern word from her was worse than a blow. Twice Pierrot had struck him, and twice Baree had sprung back and faced him with bared fangs and an angry snarl, the crest along his back standing up like a brush. Had one of the other dogs done this, Pierrot would have half killed him. It would have been mutiny, and the man must be master. But Baree was always safe. A touch of the Willow's hand, a word from her lips, and the crest slowly settled and the snarl went out of his throat.

Pierrot was not at all displeased. "Dieu! I will never go so far as to try and whip that out of him," he told himself. "He is a barbarian—a wild beast—and her slave. For her he would kill!"

So it came, through Pierrot himself—and without telling his reason for it—that Baree did not become a sledge-dog. He was allowed his freedom, and was never tied, like the others. Nepeese was glad, but did not guess the thought that was in Pierrot's mind. To himself Pierrot chuckled. She would never know why he kept on long trips with Pierrot, helping him to blaze out the new trap lines that would be used when the first snows came, and on these journeys she was always accompanied by Baree.

"By midwinter I will have him the finest dog in the pack, mon pere!"

This was the time for Pierrot to say what was in his mind. He smiled.

"I am going to send you down to the school at Nelson House again this winter, ma cherie," he said. "Baree will help draw you down on the first good snow."

The Willow was tying a knot in Baree's babiche, and she rose slowly to her feet and looked at Pierrot. Her eyes were big and dark and steady.

"I am not going, mon pere!"

"Her eyes were big and dark and steady. 'I am not going, mon pere!'"

With a shrug of his shoulders Pierrot watched her. After all, was he not glad? Would his heart not have turned sick if she had been happy at the thought of leaving him?

"The Saints be blessed!" he murmured. "Now—now, it is Pierrot Du Quesne who knows what to do!"

CHAPTER XVII.

Back to Lac Bain, late in September, came MacDonald the map-maker. For ten days Gregson, the investigating agent, had been Bush McTaggart's guest at the post, and twice in that time it had come into Marie's mind to creep upon him while he slept and kill him. The Factor himself paid little attention to her now, a fact which would have made her happy if it had not been for Gregson. He was enraptured with the wild, sinuous beauty of the Cree girl, and McTaggart, without jealousy, encouraged him. He was tired of Marie.

McTaggart told Gregson this. He wanted to get rid of her, and if he—Gregson—could possibly take her on with him it would be a great favor. He explained why. A little later, when the deep snows came, he was going to bring the daughter of Pierrot Du Quesne to the Post. In the rotteness of their brotherhood he told of his visit, of the manner of his reception, and of the incident at the chasm. In spite of all this, he assured Gregson, Pierrot's girl would soon be at Lac Bain.

It was at this time that MacDonald came. He remained only one night, and without knowing that he was adding fuel to a fire already dangerously blazing, he gave the photograph he had taken of Nepeese to the Factor. It was a splendid picture.

"If you can get it down to that girl some day I'll be mighty obliged," he said to McTaggart. "I promised her one. Her father's name is Du Quesne—Pierrot Du Quesne. You probably know them. And the girl—"

Prince Of Wales Must Study

Should Consider Seriously His Life's Work Says King George

His Majesty says the Prince of Wales must go back to school on his return from his South American tour. The King has decided the time has come for the Prince to study seriously the work he will have to do when he takes the throne. With this thought in mind, the King has prepared a very definite course of instruction for the Prince. The Prince's education at Oxford was interrupted by the war and his travels abroad, on diplomatic missions, have not permitted him to do a great deal of studying. It is admitted that at times he shows his education is not all that is befitting one destined to succeed to the British throne. Economics, civil government, history and legal procedure are subjects in the curriculum the King has laid down for the Prince.

Pastimes Of Wise MenSkipper Pebbles Has Fascination For Famous Writers

Though playing ducks and drakes on the seashore can hardly be deemed an intellectual pastime, it seems to have a peculiar fascination for men of letters. A friend who spent a week with Alfred de Musset on the Brittany coast complained that the poet spent almost the whole time trying to make pebbles skip across the waves, and Mr. Lewis Hind tells of a whole afternoon which he and Joseph Conrad and H. G. Wells spent on the beach at Sandgate engrossed in the same pursuit.

BABY'S OWN TABLETS
AN EXCELLENT REMEDYFor Any of the Many Minor Ailments of Infants and Young Children

No mother can expect that her child will escape all the ills to which babyhood and childhood are subject, but she can do much to lessen their severity, and to make baby's battles for health easily won.

To do this nothing can equal Baby's Own Tablets. They are a mild, but thorough laxative which through their action on the stomach and bowels never fail to banish constipation and indigestion; colds and simple fevers; expel worms and make the dreaded teething time easy.

Concerning Baby's Own Tablets Mrs. A. Kosman, Hamilton, Ont., writes:—"Kindly send me your booklet, 'Care of Baby in Health and Sickness.' All In Knowing HowFinnish Waitress Readily Understood Order of Canadian Nurse

One of Canada's representatives to the recent International Conference of Nurses at Helsinki, Finland, tells of the desperate time some of the visitors to the Finland meeting had in obtaining honey for breakfast at their hotel. They pronounced it slowly and loudly, but to no purpose. Their waitress had not the slightest idea what was wanted. Then one of the nurses, with that resourcefulness for which their profession is noted, waved her hands in the air as gracefully as any Kindergartner, and said, "Buzz-z." In a second the waitress had put the honey on the table.

The Frontier College

Provides Opportunity of Bringing Education to the Worker at His Work

The Frontier College has just published its first calendar. This contains many interesting educational features. While its courses are varied, there are no restrictions made by way of enforced attendance at some central institution.

It is the purpose of the Frontier College to offer varied courses for home study and thus encourages domicile in countryside and settlement. The Frontier College has set for itself the task of bringing education to the worker at his work. The established universities give prizes and scholarships on condition that men attend lectures; the Frontier College in order that they be encouraged to stay at home. In pursuance of this, university credits even for a degree, are made available for all, who have the capacity, the energy and the time to study, whatever be the circumstances of their life and work.

But while much latitude is given in the matter of options there is no thought of cheapening the degree. In fact, certain subjects such as Forestry, Biology, Agriculture, subjects very vital to Canada, with its ever present problems of settlement, reforestation and immigration, are made compulsory. An examining board has been formed which numbers among its members many men who have already won a Dominion-wide reputation in their special fields. The calendar may be had upon application to the Frontier College 67 Yonge Street, Toronto.

B.C. Pulp Goes To Japan

Canadian pulp practically controls the Japanese market, as far as price is concerned. During last year between 2,000 and 3,000 tons of pulp from British Columbia have been imported into Japan, out of a total of some 3,500 to 5,000 tons from all countries. It is anticipated that Quebec will presently enter in the field.

The cucumber was one of the good things of Egypt for which the Israelites longed after they had left the land of bondage and were travelling through the wilderness. This plant grows in the fertile earth around Cairo after the inundation of the Nile, but not elsewhere in Egypt. From that country it was probably carried to Palestine and later to Europe. It is mentioned by the Latin poet Virgil. It was introduced into England from Holland in 1538.

"The day I started taking Carter's Little Liver Pills," says Mr. John A. Perry of New York City, "my habitual bad breath and bad stomach stopped. I strongly recommend them to all those afflicted with these nasty troubles. I assure you that my own case was a bad one, causing me untold embarrassment, and Carter's helped me right from the start."

Bad breath comes from sour stomach and can usually be relieved quickly by Carter's Little Liver Pills.

They are wonderful for constipation, sick-headache and indigestion and they physic the system in a mild and gentle manner, no bad after effects.

GREAT HARVEST SALE

DURING THIS MONTH

While in Calgary the other day, snooping around for bargains, I stumbled on to a lay-out of travellers' samples, mostly Men's Wear—Work Shirts, Dress Shirts, Mackinaw Coats, Mackinaw Pants & Breeks, Underwear, Sox, and a bunch of Fancy Towels. The quantity almost staggered me. But, oh, boys, the price. The towels just slightly soiled, the other lines —perfect. THE GOODS ARE IN.

A Timely Reminder.

In giving judgment against a delinquent subscriber recently, Judge O'Reilly, of Cornwall, made the statement that newspaper publishers had a hard enough time in financing their business without being done out of their subscriptions. If a person wanted to stop a newspaper the proper way is for him to pay all arrears and get a receipt, or if he is paid up, refuse to take the paper at the post office and have a record made of his refusal. A man who owed for a newspaper could not stop taking the paper and expect the publisher to go without his pay. It may be added that no publisher wishes to force his paper on anyone, and any subscriber wishing his paper discontinued will not have the slightest trouble if he does so in an honest and business-like way. Hundreds of dollars are lost every year to publishers by those who, after the subscription has expired for three or six months discontinue the paper and send it back marked "Refused." The amount is too small for the publisher to make a fuss about, but all the same it amounts to a neat little sum in a year.—High River Times.

It is estimated that the district around Didsbury will this year harvest a crop of about one million bushels. This is quite an advance over 1918 when a yield of 113,000 bushels was recorded. In 1923, however, the production was increased to 1,150,000 bushels. Last year there was a decrease, when 900,000 bushels were grown.

Quite a number of the local hunters took advantage of the recent snow and went west for a deer hunt. Skinny Scott, Bob Stevens and Hale Gochee struck for the moose country and brought back a fine four year old moose, one of the largest ever shot this far west. Cecil Adshead and Bert Cressman went after deer and brought back two fine bucks. Some interesting pictures are on display at Mr. Scrutons photo studio. One picture shows a deer on a rope, how this was accomplished would take considerable space, but ask Cecil or Bert and get it straight.

A meeting under the auspices of the Didsbury W. I. will be held in the Presbyterian church on Wednesday, November 18th at three o'clock, when Mr. Claypool, M.L.A., will speak on "Legislation and the Community Bill." Everybody is cordially invited to attend.

H. E. Roppel, pastor

The special services last Sunday, both morning and evening were very noticeably marked with the spirit of good will and Thanksgiving unto the Lord for all His benefits towards us. The attendance was large, especially in the evening and the free-will offerings were very gratifying. Besides the weekly offering amounting to $4.55 last Sunday, an extra thanksgiving offering for missions and benevolences was given, amounting to $178.00. This brings the total offering for Thanksgiving Sunday up to $262.55.

The pastor and officials of the church take this means to express their appreciation of the good will and hearty response of the members and friends of the church to its needs for the support and spread of the Gospel.

In connection with the series of sermons on "Courtship and Marriage," the subject to be dealt with next Sunday evening is "A Man's Idea of an Ideal Woman," Prov. 31:3. Young and old are invited, and remember, that the basis of these sermons is scriptural, the tone is earnest, the ideals lofty, and the object is to foster true happiness in family life and safeguard against future unhappy marriages. This is a vital matter, close to the very heart of Christianity.

Mr. Orlando Hahn was home over Thanksgiving. He has resigned his position in the bank at Lacombe with a view to take up a college (Theological) course of study at Naperville, Ill.

Miss Ruth Brubacker accompanied by Miss Brown both teaching school west of town, were visiting here at Miss Brubacker's parental home over Thanksgiving.

Found, on Sunday last in the Ev church, a purse containing a sum of money, also a gentleman's tie pin. Losers apply to the pastor.

More than 100 persons joined the ride of the Trail Riders of the Rockies on their horseback journey from Banff to Wapta Camp, via Marble Canyon and Lake O'Hara. The ride started on August 8.

Grain figures issued by the Harbor Commission of Montreal show that on August 1st all grain shipment records were broken by one day's delivery, of 2,277,712 bushels of grain to outgoing ships. Harbor officials state that this is the first time that grain shipments in one day have topped the two million bushel mark.

Installation of machinery at the new annex of the Dominion Textile Mill at Montmorency Falls, Quebec, will be started by January first next. About 300 additional employees will be required to operate the plant. At present there are about 1,800 employed at the mills.

A prophecy that the Orient would become in the very near future a really large importer of Canadian wheat was made recently by Hon. Dr. J. H. King, Minister of Public Works. In predicting increased Orient trade in grain, Dr. King pointed out that imports of wheat from Canada for 1923-1924 increased by 400 per cent.

Over fifteen thousand men left the east on the first harvest excursion from the east to the wheat fields in the middle of August. Four other excursions are to follow from Toronto later in August and September, when it is expected that the majority of the remainder of the 50,000 men required for the harvest will travel west.

British teachers touring Canada under the auspices of the Overseas Educational League are now enjoying all the various forms of entertainment to be found in the Canadian Pacific Rockies. They have been riding trails, hiking, fishing, motoring, bathing in the sulphur springs at the Banff Springs Hotel and were the guests at a dinner there given by J. M. Gibbon, secretary of the Trail Riders of the Canadian Rockies.

Confidence of United States capital in the Dominion, optimistic preparations for the new Canadian financing, prospects of a good crop, large United States purchasing in Canada, and heavy expenditures of American tourists in the Dominion, were some of the reasons offered by New York financial experts for the consistent above par stand of the Canadian dollar on the New York exchange. The Canadian dollar is now at a premium on the New York exchange.

The total number of students in Canadian universities and colleges in 1924 was 52,639, or nearly one in eighteen of the total population, according to a bulletin issued by the Dominion Bureau of Statistics. Under the category of colleges, the total number in 1924 was 83. Of this total six are agricultural, two technical, two law, one dental, one for pharmacy, one for veterinary science, 28 theological, 39 affiliated, one school for higher commercial studies, one college of art and one military college.

During the coming winter Canada will see the debut of a new transportation device known as the Snow-motor. This consists of two hollow cigar shaped cylinders or drums to which flanges, resembling cork screws, are attached. These drums are fixed to an automobile or tractor in the place of the wheels and, by rotating actually float the machine over the snow. The snow-motor is regarded as especially valuable in the transportation of lumber; it can negotiate snow of any depth and can operate in countries where other methods of transportation are impossible or too costly and can also make roads which other vehicles can use. It is manufactured in Detroit and will be on the market in Montreal during the coming winter.

The Political Situation

The result of the general Dominion elections held on October 29 is not a good thing for Canada. It creates a new House of Commons in which one political group commands a majority and consequently a situation is brought about where it is impossible to have a strong Government able to carry its policies into effect and give the country effective and efficient administration.

A majority of the constituencies rejected the policies of the King Government, but, while disapproval of the Government and its policies was thus recorded, neither did a majority of the constituencies express approval and extend support to the leadership and policies of the Conservative Opposition. In an even more emphatic way the country as a whole rejected the Progressive Party.

A condition of "stalemate," a deadlock, ensues, which apparently it will require another appeal to the electorate to break. In other words, for the time being at least, there must be a "marking of time," a period of drifting, which is an extremely bad thing for any country, and especially so for a young country like Canada with a number of serious national problems demanding vigorous and constructive action.

Comment by "the man in the street" is, of course, largely colored by his party affiliations but all too frequently an amazing ignorance of the constitutional position of affairs is disclosed. Without in any way touching on the party aspect of the situation, it may be well to clearly state the constitutional position.

If the Government of the day is clearly defeated in a general election, the practice both in Great Britain and in Canada is for that Government to immediately resign, and for the Premier to advise the Governor-General to call on the leader of the victorious Opposition party to form a new Government. But a defeated Government is not obliged to take this action; it can continue in office and meet Parliament and is not obliged to resign until it suffers defeat in the House of Commons. That is to say, the tenure of office by any Government rests with the House of Commons.

But, if following a decisive defeat in a general election, the Government did not resign the Governor-General can take cognizance of that defeat and take responsibility for dismissing his Ministers and calling upon the Leader of the Opposition to form a new Administration. In this event the new Ministry must obtain a vote of confidence from Parliament otherwise the usefulness of the Governor-General is past.

However, in the election last month, while the Government failed to secure a majority, so, too, did the Opposition. Consequently the Government would be justified in continuing in office and asking Parliament for a vote of confidence, relying on a combination of Liberals and Progressives to reach such a vote. If, on the other hand, the Government resigns and Mr. Melglen is asked to form a Government, it is quite evident he could not command a majority in the House of Commons as at present constituted, and another election would become immediately imperative.

Mr. King is, however, confronted with a second problem. If he decides to await a verdict from Parliament, he must in view of his personal defeat and the defeat of one-half of his ministers, reconstruct his cabinet. This involves a series of by-elections. In the present indecisive state of public opinion it is doubtful if these ministers could be elected.

Furthermore, for the King Government to continue in office any length of time under present conditions would be to perpetuate the unsatisfactory situation in the House of Commons and Government which Mr. King himself in advising dissolution of Parliament, urged as one outstanding reason why an election at this time was necessary, namely, to provide a Government with a clear mandate and a working majority. Mr. King further announced that if the election did not result in providing such a clear working majority he would again appeal to the country.

Disturbing and expensive though it would be, the logic of the situation points to another election without loss of time. Whether Mr. King remains in office, re-constructs his cabinet, and calls that election, or whether he resigns and Mr. Melglen forms a cabinet and then goes to the country, is a matter for Mr. King and his advisers to decide, and possibly before this article is published a decision will have been made. But as in any event it is quite evident that the holding of another election cannot long be deferred—and in the interests of strong, stable government in Canada should not be deferred—then the sooner it is held and the whole situation clarified, the better for Canada.

Settlers From Sunny Italy
It is reported that banking interests in Northern Italy are negotiating for the purchase of forty thousand acres of farm land in Manitoba; on which it is planned to settle five hundred families of Italian agriculturists. If the deal is promulgated, it is planned to bring the vanguard of settlers next spring.

Manitoba Dairy Industry
The growth of the dairy industry in Manitoba is well illustrated by a comparison of the figures of production in 1900 and 1924. In 1900, the total value of dairy products produced in Manitoba was $1,681,305. Last year it was $13,093,902. In 1924, 198 carloads of creamery butter were exported from Manitoba totalling 4,435,200 pounds.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

NOVEMBER 15

PAUL'S ARREST IN JERUSALEM

Golden Text: If a man suffer as a Christian, let him not be ashamed. I. Peter 4:16.

Lesson: Acts 21:17 to 22:30.

Devotional Reading: Psalm 125:1-5.

The Text Explained and Illuminated

Paul's Report to the Church at Jerusalem, verses 17-19.—Paul came to Jerusalem with a wonderful story of how the gospel message had been received among the Grecian Jews and Gentiles, and with abundant proof of their regard for the mother church, in the collection which they had contributed out of their deep poverty. The leaders of the church at Jerusalem received Paul cordially, and after his recital they glorified God. Luke's account, however, makes no mention of their gratitude for the help of the Gentile Christians. Apparently they passed at once to what was uppermost in their own minds.

The least that one can do to show that he is grateful is to say so. Gratitude is one of the cardinal virtues. We should be scrupulously careful to thank everyone who does anything for us, but, on the other hand, we should be as scrupulously indifferent when those for whom we do anything fail to thank us. Giving one's service on any other basis would be a miserable affair. "It is another's fault if he be ungrateful; but it is mine if I do not give," declared Seneca.

WHY RHEUMATISM OFTEN COMES BACK

The Usual Treatment Does Not Reach the Root of the Trouble

Most treatments for rheumatism do no more than aim to keep down the poison in the blood and enable nature to overcome that particular attack. Then when the system becomes run-down from any cause the disease again gets the upper hand and it all has to be done over.

Sufferers from rheumatism who have found their condition unrelieved or actually growing worse while using other remedies, would do well to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. The tonic treatment with this medicine has proved in thousands of cases that it builds up the blood to a point that enables it to cast out the rheumatic poisons through the regular channels, the bowels, kidneys and the skin. When this is done rheumatism is banished, and as long as the blood is kept pure and rich the patient will be immune from attack. This is fully proved by the case of Mr. Samuel Zinck, Upper Blandford, N.S., who says:—"For a long time I was a great sufferer from rheumatism which settled in my hip and down by leg to the knee. At times the pain was so great that I could not walk. I tried liniments and medicines but without getting more than mere temporary relief. Then one day a friend called who said that he had been afflicted with this trouble which was banished by Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and urged me to try them. I did as advised and after using a few boxes there was no doubt they were helping me. Not only was the rheumatism disappearing, but my general health was improving. I continued the pills until I had taken about a dozen boxes when every trace of the trouble had disappeared, and I have not felt a twinge of it since. I may add that my wife used these pills for a run-down condition with equally good results."

You can get these pills from any medicine dealers or by mail at 50 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Famous Watchdog Dead

Was Familiar Figure Around Geneva Headquarters of League of Nations

Bristol, the famous St. Bernard watchdog of the League of Nations headquarters at Geneva, is dead. He was washed specially for the sixth assembly, and it is thought he must have caught a cold. The next day he was suffering pain, and a dose of opium was injected, death taking place at once. Bristol—whence he got the name is not known—was about 15 years old, and originally belonged to an Italian count, who was a resident in the Hotel National before it was taken over by the league. The St. Bernard had been a watchdog since the foundation of the league, and was probably the most familiar figure there. All day the delegates at the assembly, and many others, were inquiring as to the state of his health. He was known and loved by everyone. Bristol is to be buried in a grave in the front garden of the Palais des Nations.

While it is well known that Aspirin means Bayer manufacture, to assist the public against imitations, the Tablets of Bayer Company will be stamped with their general trade mark, the "Bayer Cross."

SAYS WEST WILL BE THE ARBITERS IN NEXT HOUSE

Montreal.—That "the people of the west will probably be the arbiters of power" in the next parliament was the opinion expressed here by Henri Bourassa, independent member-elect for Labelle and proprietor of Le Devoir.

In commenting on the election, Mr. Bourassa added:

"We are going more and more towards a government by groups. It is more and more clearly necessary to send to parliament independent deputies. The country needs representatives who are better than blind partisans, people capable of freeing themselves from the spirit of party, of looking beyond local or provincial interest."

"As I have said over and over again, I do not mean to be merely the deputy of Labelle. I will support any policy that can legitimately reconcile the interests of the west and those of the east. I do not mean to be the man of a province or of a country."

Le Devor editorially declares that the elections appear merely to have brought to a head a crisis for which there is as yet no solution.

"The situation," it says, "is singularly complicated by the fact that the man who is at the head of the largest parliamentary group has not succeeded in securing the election in Quebec of one single personal candidate—with the possible exception of Mr. Perley.

"We are at any rate in the midst of a crisis, with the perspective in a not distant future of a new general election."

"The two outstanding facts of the campaign are probably the extent of the Conservative victory in Ontario with its massacre of ministers, and the almost total failure of the anti-King campaign in our province. In both cases the results surpass the hopes of the victors."

Freedom Of Money Market

British Government to Remove Embargo on Dominion Loans in London

Sheffield, England.—Winston Churchill, chancellor of the exchequer, in a speech here announced that the government had decided to remove the embargo on the issue of dominion, colonial and foreign loans in London.

"The old full freedom of the money market will be restored," said the chancellor and the city of London must be responsible for using it wisely and soberly. Over-lending, such as lending beyond our strength, straining at future credit, lending beyond our savings, will bring its own correctives." He stated "that he hoped so far as possible without impairing the freedom of the market, preference will be given to these issues bringing a high proportion of orders for goods to British trade."

Says Mining And Agriculture Linked

Deputy Minister of Mines Predicts Mineral Development in Canada

Winnipeg.—"Taking a long-sighted view and having regard to the ever-increasing mineral development with consequent exhaustion in time of the minerals of the older countries, it seems to me that nothing can stop Canada playing a prominent part in the future mineral production of the world," said Charles Camell, LL.D., F.R.S.C., federal deputy minister of mines.

Mr. Camell was the principal speaker at the seventh annual western meeting of the Canadian Institute of Mining and Metallurgy.

Another point stressed by the deputy minister was that the development of the mining industry would inevitably lead to the thorough agricultural development of the country.

Dr. Camell reviewed the mineral trade of Canada and declared the future would see the United States and the world in general looking to Canada's mineral deposits as the last great source of the world. The world's ever-increasing need of minerals to meet the demand and the gradual exhaustion of Old World sources of supply are factors driving toward the early opening up of Canada's unfathomed mineral deposits, Dr. Camell declared.

Canada's Prestige Abroad Increasing

Great Improvement Noted By President of Labor Congress

Ottawa.—"Canada's prestige is not only being maintained but it is being improved, both in League of Nations' circles and in the International Labor Office at Geneva, in connection with the league," said Tom Moore, president of the Trades and Labor Congress, on his return from a hurried trip to Geneva to attend the quarterly meeting of the governing body of the International Labor Office.

Apart from considerable activity in housing and railroad work, there does not seem to be any relief in the general unemployment situation in Britain, said the Labor leader.

Mr. Moore said he found an active interest among Canadians abroad in the prospects of the general election here. His comment on Canadian news, or lack of it, in British newspapers, however, was that one might almost have been in a foreign country so far as Canada was concerned. The only items he saw were quite inconsequential and conveyed little information.

Wives Seek Equality

National Council of Women Want Equal Standing With Stern Sex

Detroit, Mich.—Canadian delegates to the meeting of the National Council of Women here, reported a movement sponsored by the Canadian councils for a law which would establish the "equality" of wife with husband regardless of husband's earning capacity. The delegates said that a movement to put such a law on the statute books was under way in several Canadian provinces. A similar law is said to be in effect in Sweden, placing the housewife on an economic and legal basis with the bread-winner.

FREE LEGAL AID IS A NECESSITY FOR THE POOR

Montreal.—Difficulties which confront the poor when in need of legal redress were dealt with in an address delivered by G. H. Corbett, secretary director of the Society for the Protection of Women and Children, before a Montreal conference on social work.

Mr. Corbett took the stand that under existing conditions the poor cannot get adequate justice before the courts, the reason being court fees and costs, which prohibited access to the courts by the poor, court delays and lawyers' fees.

To protect the poor and to save them from oppression, free legal aid was a necessity, held Mr. Corbett. The lawyers' fee was a fundamental difficulty, he said, and countless thousands, being unable to pay these sums, were denied justice.

Apple Production In Canada

Statistics Show Value of 1925 Crop on Farm is $7,000,000

Ottawa.—In spite of the old adage, "an apple a day keeps the doctor away," Canada's per capita consumption of one of its most prolific products is only onethird of an apple a day.

This and other interesting things about the apple, its growth, cultivation and marketing were told to Ottawa Rotarians here by W. T. Macoun, Dominion horticulturist, who is also the official apple tester for the Dominion.

It may not be widely known among Canadians, he said, that the statistics for 1921 show that in Canada 1,775,366 apple trees were in cultivation, which, counting 60 trees to an acre, would cover an area of 196,600 acres. In 1925, the apple production was 12,200,000 bushels of apples of all varieties valued on the farm at $7,000,000.

Graft is Blamed for Most of the Failures in Law Enforcement

Atlantic City, N.J.—More crime is committed each year in the United States than in the remainder of North America, and all of South America and Europe, exclusive of the Balkans and Russia, according to Chief Justice Marshall, of the Ohio supreme court.

The justice was addressing the middle Atlantic district of civilian clubs, and he gave them his opinions that most executives are actually elected on a basis of non-enforcement of law. He blamed direct graft for most of the failures in law enforcement.

Now he has received the thanks of the United States department of agriculture, and another incident in the compiling of the natural history of the North American continent was closed.

Schooner Brought From Arctic By Eskimos

Crew Was Very Proficient and Experiment Proves Successful

Montreal.—Unique in the annals of Arctic navigation is the bringing down from Chesterfield Inlet, bordering on the 64th degree to Liverpool, N.S., a distance of nearly 3,000 miles, of a northern trading schooner manned by full blooded Eskimos. The schooner Jean Revillon, is a fur trading craft belonging to Revillon Freres, of Montreal. It was built in 1923 and since then has plied the Arctic waters north and west of Chesterfield Inlet.

To overhaul the vessel it was necessary to bring it to civilization to Shelburne, N.S. In charge of Captain W. H. Robertson, a Newfoundland, and with C. J. King, Montreal, as engineer, the vessel left on August 1 with a crew of four Eskimos.

Taking the Hudson Straits route, the schooner plodded its way through fierce gales. The whole journey was a perilous undertaking.

Only three weeks late, the Jean Revillon arrived at Liverpool, N.S., the captain, engineer and crew thankful that the voyage was nearly at an end. The crew is stated to have been very proficient, and the experiment proved successful.

It has never before been thought advisable to take Eskimos out of their own sphere, but this has proved that thefeat can be done.

Big Liner Battered By Waves

Gigantic Ship Encounters the Worst Storm of Its Career

Cherbourg, France.—Fifty or more passengers landed from the steamship Berengaria with bandaged heads, arms in splints or sprained legs. They had received these injuries on the voyage from New York in the most terrific storm, in the captain's estimation, the ship had ever encountered in her ocean career.

The seas ran mountain high. One terrific wave caused the ship to stand on end, and such passengers and members of the crew as happened to be on deck were thrown violently off their feet.

The commander of the Berengaria said that in all his 32 years at sea he never had seen weather equal to that culminating the tempest of Saturday.

Montreal.—Many prominent medical men from various parts of Canada attended the fall meeting of the executive committee of the Canadian Medical Association. Coupled with this, was a decision to make a compilation of records of the annual supply of physicians through the universities. In order to ensure a constant and adequate number of practitioners for all Canada.

France Trying Silver Fox Farming

A course of lectures, with films illustrating the lives of captive foxes on Canadian farms, are to be given here. Trappers and fox breeders here from Canada declare the snow-covered pine forests of Northeastern France are ideal for raising the animals, and special preserves have been laid out.

October Sets Cold Record

Ottawa.—The month just passed has been the coldest October recorded in the last 35 years at the Dominion experimental farm, and it may be that it has been the coldest over a still greater number of years, as this is as far as the records at the farm run. The mean temperature for the month was 38.9 degrees Fahrenheit against the average of 46.6.

Thornton Sails For England

Montreal.—Sir Henry Thornton, chairman and president of the Canadian National Railways, sailed from New York on the liner Mauretania for a brief visit to England. U.S. DESTROYERS ARE ORDERED TO LEAVE FOR SYRIA

Alexandria, Egypt.—United States destroyers which had been lying here awaiting orders have left hurriedly for Beirut, Syria.

Paris.—The French losses in the recent Damascus troubles according to official advices reaching Paris, were 120 dead, and 50 wounded. The insurgents lost 200 killed. (This compares with previous unofficial reports estimating the deaths in the thousands.)

In addition, the dispatches say, the insurgents killed 50 Armenians and three Tripolitans. The damage to property is estimated at $1,125,000.

The reports emphasize the fact that no Europeans were wounded or hurt in any way.

The official account declared the trouble started on the night of October 18, when bandit gangs which had been operating in the outskirts entered the native quarters of the city. Joined by the lower classes they overpowered the police and menaced European quarters.

Discover Rich Mine Field

Field of Lithia Ore Discovered North Of Winnipeg

Winnipeg.—The story of the discovery and development of the richest field of lithia ore on the continent, and one of only four or five such fields in the world, is being told at the convention of the Canadian Institute of Mining and Metallurgy which met here.

F. B. Evans, who crowned a career of 15 years of prospecting by the discovery, is a delegate. The ore is used in fireworks, photography and many medicines. Other products include potash and aluminum and several rare ores, including tantalite, allied to the tungsten group, and used for dental instruments.

The ore body lies at Point du Bois, north of Winnipeg, and is being developed by British capital. It is stated that 10,000 tons of ore valued at $1,000,000 have been revealed up to the present by the stripping operations. Six tons of ore representing the first shipment left for England recently. Construction of a factory to extract the ore and other products is being planned for next summer.

Predict Potato Shortage

Unfavorable Weather Injures Crop of Tubers in Manitoba

Winnipeg.—Early frosts and generally unfavorable weather have brought havoc to the potato crop in Manitoba, and prices are hitting peak records. The retail price is now $1.50 a bushel and it is possible that the $2 mark will soon be reached.

Thousands of bushels of potatoes have been left in the ground, while earlier in the season heavy shipments were made to United States consumers in the Dakotas and today an acute shortage exists in this province. Importation will be necessary to fill the local requirements.

N. S. Coal Production

Glace Bay, N. S.—Production at the collieries of the British Empire Steel Corporation reached almost half a million tons during the month of October, a total of 467,725 tons being raised as against 427,122 tons in September.
